MADRAS INSTITUTE OF DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

Dr.Malcolm S.Adisehiah and his wife Elizabeth founded the Madras Institute of Development Studies (MIDS) in 1971 with the following objectives:

* To undertake studies and research pertaining to development problems with special reference to the agro-rural aspects of Tamil Nadu and the problems of the economically and socially backward sections of the population throughout the country.

* To conduct seminars and conferences on development problems and programmes of the State.

* To foster inter-university cooperation among the social scientists of the Universities of the four southern states.

* To promote interdisciplinary research, and bring out publications relating to the above three functions.

In 1977, it was reconstituted as a national institute jointly sponsored by the Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi and the Government of Tamil Nadu.

The research concerns of the faculty are wide ranging from the concerns of development economics such as agriculture, rural development, industry, urbanisation and labour, to emerging interdisciplinary areas such as gender, environment, human development, social and political movements, and social criticism.

Through its seminars and workshops, MIDS has become a centre for critical thinking on development issues, particularly relating to Tamil Nadu. The service of faculty members are increasingly sought by State and Central government departments, autonomous agencies, universities and colleges, non-government and international organisations. In 1996, MIDS celebrated its Silver Jubilee with a number of programmes and workshops, and by improving the quality of its library and computer infrastructure.

Introduction

The year 1998-99 marked the completion of two decades of the functioning of Madras Institute of Development Studies as a national institute, within the network of institutes established by the Indian Council of Social Science Research. The first decade (1978-79 to 1987-88) witnessed the growth and development of MIDS as a premier social science institute in the country. The focus of much of the work was on the economy of the state of Tamil Nadu culminating in the publication of the "Tamil Nadu Economy" Volume in 1988. The second decade (1988-89 to 1997-98) enlarged the scope of enquiry to social and political concerns. However, detailed studies at the State level continued in many sectors - agriculture, industry, irrigation and water management, employment, urbanisation, etc. - but with greater focus on the social sectors and the human dimensions of development. The academic programme of the Institute is now at the cross-roads, and must forge new directions and perspectives particularly in the rapidly changing external environment. Freezing of grants since the early 1990s by the funding agencies has resulted in serious financial constraints. In the long term, the sources of financial support will have to be more broad-based to reduce the dependence on grants, and to carry out the various academic programmes of the Institute. The composition of the Governing and Academic Councils of the Institute is given in Annexures I and II.

Personnel

Faculty members, Nasir Tyabji, Professor and R.Hema, Fellow who joined the Institute in 1982 and 1989 respectively have submitted their resignations. The current strength of the faculty is 15. Janaki Nair, Fellow is away on deputation at the Centre for the Study of Culture and Society, Bangalore till January 2000. Nirmal Sengupta, Professor and M.S.S.Pandian, Fellow have been away for shorter periods at the Indiana University, and Queen Elizabeth House, Oxford respectively. V.Chandrasekara Naidu and M.Thangaraj, Research Associates, who opted for the Modified Evaluation Scheme were promoted as Fellows. C.Annadurai, Research Associate was away on extraordinary leave. The list of faculty members and their areas of research is shown in Annexure III. The composition of administration, research support staff and library is given in Annexure IV.

Prof. R.Champakalakshmi, Retired Professor of Ancient History, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi accepted the invitation of the Academic Council to serve as Honorary Professor for a five-year period. Honorary Prof.U.Sankar, Director, Madras School of Economics completed his term during the year under review. Emeritus Professor C.T.Kurien received the "Outstanding Economist" award from the University Grants Commission for life time contribution to teaching and research.

RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

Faculty members continue their individual research interests in diverse areas such as education, health, gender, labour, industrial development, poverty and inequality, social and political movements, social criticism, environment and natural resources, and local institutions. Some broad themes that are discernible are: human development and well being; conflicts in the use of resources that impact health; environment; backward classes; women and children; and issues of governance. Increasingly, the research concerns of the faculty have widened from traditional economic sectors such as agriculture, industry, etc. to broader social and political dimensions. However, the Review Committee as well as the public feel that the Institute should build on its pioneering work on the Tamil Nadu economy, particularly in the context of changing economic policies. It is likely, therefore, that these areas will be revisited in the years to come. While the following sections illustrate the rich and diverse work of the faculty, detailed information is provided in Annexures V-XIII.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND WELL BEING

Education

Several faculty members have been working in areas relating to education. P.Radhakrishnan delivered the Phule Endowment Lectures on "Education and Weaker Sections" in the Sociology Department, University of Madras, and is revising these lectures for publication. Padmini Swaminathan has published an article on "Women's Education in Colonial Tamil Nadu", Manabi Majumdar continues her work on exclusion in education from an inter-state perspective and is working on the role of the private sector in the financing of basic education. Doctoral scholar, R.Akila, under the supervision of P.Radhakrishnan has submitted her synopsis on "The Educational Status of Women in India, with Special Reference to Tamil Nadu" to the University of Madras.

Health

K.Nagaraj has been investigating the extent and nature of the fertility decline in Tamil Nadu, and in particular the impact of women's health. Padmini Swaminathan has undertaken studies of occupational health of women workers and has been publishing and speaking on work and reproductive health. She also serves as Consulting Editor to the "Radical Journal of Health". Millie Nihila under the supervision of Padmini Swaminathan, has submitted her doctoral thesis on "Growing Industry, Sick Workers: A Study of The Leather Tanning Industry of Dindigul from an Occupational Health Perspective" to the University of Madras. K.Nagaraj and Paul Appasamy are coordinating a multi-institutional study on "Maternal Anaemia Among the Urban Poor in Tamil Nadu".

Gender

S.Subramanian and D.Jayaraj brought out a Working Paper on "Assessing the Femaleness of the Population". A revised version has been accepted for publication by the Journal of Development Economics. D.Jayaraj presented a paper on "Demographics and Women's Well being in India", and is working on the "Determinants of Sex Ratio at Birth". Padmini Swaminathan edited a Special EPW Review issue on Women's Studies which included a co-authored paper on "Resilience of Gender Equities" and one by Millie Nihila on "Marginalisation of Women Workers: Leather Tanning in Tamil Nadu". M.Prashanti, another doctoral scholar, is working on "Micro-credit and Women's Empowerment". The book "A Question of Silence" edited by Janaki Nair and Mary E.John of the proceedings of the Silver Jubilee Workshop on "Human Sexuality" was published by Kali for Women.

Labour and Migration

Issues relating to child labour continue to be of interest. Manabi Majumdar has written on child labour as a human security problem. A research scholar, Antonyraj who is studying the dimensions of child labour in rural Tamil Nadu has completed a critical review of the literature. K.Nagaraj has published an article on "Labour Market Characteristics and Employment Generation". He is currently revising his paper on "Silk Weaving in Arni" for publication.

S.Subramanian and Barbara Hariss-White of Queen Elizabeth House, Oxford have edited a volume entitled "Illfare in India" in honour of Late S.Guhan, former Emeritus Fellow of the Institute. Several faculty members of the Institute contributed to this volume on the status of human development and well being in India. S.Subramanian is currently working on another volume on the writings of S.Guhan.

The Institute organised a two-day symposium on the contributions of Amartya Sen. Many aspects of human development - food security, basic education, women's agency - relating to Sen's work were discussed at the Symposium. A more detailed account is given in a later section by Manabi Majumdar, the coordinator of the symposium. Ananta Kumar Giri has addressed the issue of human well being from a sociological perspective. He has published papers on "Rethinking Well Being" and the "Well Being of Institutions".

Social and Political Conflict

Conflicts of various kind - caste, communal, gender and increasingly over natural resources - have engaged the attention of several faculty. M.S.S.Pandian has been writing about "Resisting Modernity" and about "Dalit Politics in Tamil Nadu". M.Thangaraj has put together a compendium of newspaper and magazine articles on "Caste Clashes in Tamil Nadu" in Tamil for an NGO. He is currently engaged in a study on "Atrocities against Scheduled Castes in Tamil Nadu". P.Radhakrishnan has written articles on "The Crisis of Governance at the Centre", Conversion Bogey" and "The Meaning of Vaikom", and is working on a volume on "Backward Classes and Reservations". Padmini Swaminathan has taken up a study on "Violence of Gendered Development".

Environmental degradation has more recently become an arena for social conflict. S.Janakarajan and Paul P.Appasamy have taken up studies of conflicts in the use of water in different river basins in Tamil Nadu for a project funded by IDRC, Canada. The overall project involves three other research institutes in India and Nepal. The initial results including a paper by S.Janakarajan entitled "Conflicts over the Invisible Resource: Is there a way out?" will be published in an IDRC monograph. Padmini Swaminathan has addressed conflicts in the use of energy resources in a paper on "The Gendered Politics of Fuel in India".

Changes in economic organisation are also emerging as a result of the new economic policies. Padmini Swaminathan and J.Jeyaranjan's work on "The Knitwear Cluster in Tiruppur" has been accepted for publication in a volume on "Economy and Organisation" by A.K.Bagchi. C.T.Kurien presented a paper on "The Chinese Economy Today" at the Institute highlighting the changes that are occurring in that country, and the relevance to the Indian economy.

Natural Resources and the Environment

Apart from the work on conflicts over environmental degradation, some faculty and research scholars have been working in the area of natural resources, particularly water and other environmental resources. Nirmal Sengupta has completed a project funded by the Ford Foundation on "Financing of Irrigation in Tamil Nadu" and has also written an article on "Sustainability, Equity and Efficiency in Irrigation Infrastructure". A.Vaidyanathan has brought out a book on Irrigation Institutions based on earlier studies conducted at the Institute in different river basins of Tamil Nadu. Doctoral Scholar, Anbazhagan's dissertation on "Development of Well Irrigation and the Impact of Agriculture" is nearing completion. Project Associate, K.Sivasubramanian has published a paper on the maintenance of irriga n networks in Tamil Nadu in the Institute's Journal. V.Chandrasekara Naidu is studying the environmental aspects of agricultural transformation in Tamil Nadu (1975-95). While research scholar, L.Venkatachalam is in the final stages of his dissertation on valuation of drinking water, Senthamilselvi is working on urban poverty and the environment.

Environmental history is emerging as a new discipline in the social sciences. M.S.S.Pandian's paper on "Hunting and Colonialism in the Nineteenth Century Hills of South India" was reprinted in "Nature and the Orient" edited by Richard Grove. Project Associate, V.Saravanan's paper "Communalisation of Forestry, Environmental Negligence, and Alienation of Tribal Rights in Madras Presidency (1792-1882)" was published by the Indian Economic and Social History Review. He has also written a paper on "Historical Aspects of Local Water Supply Options in the Noyyal basin". Doctoral scholar, Ajit Menon's dissertation on "Institutions and Institutional Change in the Forest Economy of Tamil Nadu" is nearing completion. He also published a paper on "Common Property Studies and the Limits to Equity" in the Institute journal.

Social Criticism and Social Action

Ananta Kumar Giri has been concentrating on social criticism. He has published papers on self development, cultural creativity, creative experiments, moral consciousness, and the alternative image of civil society and has brought out a book on "Values, Ethics and Business: Challenges for Education and Management". He has also brought out a Working Paper on "Audited Accountability and Imperative of Responsibility" based on a presentation to the European Association for Social Anthropologists. He is currently engaged in an ICSSR funded project on self development and social transformation based on the pioneering work done by the voluntary organisation, "Swadhyaya".

M.S.S.Pandian presented a paper on "Tamil Cinema and its Publics" at the School of Oriental and African Studies, London. He has nearly completed a volume on "The Non-Brahmin Public Sphere?" incorporating material collected from the India office Library and Oxford University, U.K.

Local Institutions and Governance

K.Nagaraj presented a paper on "A Note on Decentralisation in Kerala" at a Seminar on "Process of Decentralisation" in Hanoi. He has also undertaken a Study on Village and Town Surveys in Tamil Nadu funded by the Kerala Research Programme for Local Level Development (KRPLLD). Barbara Harriss-White (Oxford University) and S.Janakarajan are editing a book on "Adjustment and Development" based on the resurvey they conducted in eleven villages in and around Arni town in the Thiruvannamalai district.

Nirmal Sengupta has completed a study on "Inequality and Participation" with researchers at the University of California, Berkeley. Paul Appasamy and P.Narahari Reddy completed a study of "Functional and Financial Devolution to Rural Local Bodies in Tamil Nadu" for the National Institute of Rural Development, Hyderabad. They also organised a one-day workshop on "Issues before the XI Finance Commission: The Case of Tamil Nadu" at the request of the Finance Department, Government of Tamil Nadu.

The Institute is collaborating with Leiden University, The Netherlands on an Indo-Dutch research project on "Grassroots Level Initiatives in Sustainable Development". Field work in Dharmapuri district is coordinated by Ajit Menon, while the urban study has been undertaken by a Dutch researcher. M.Thangaraj has written a monograph in Tamil on "Land and Caste in Tamil Nadu", and is currently editing a book on "Land Reforms in Tamil Nadu" for the Lal Bahadur Shastri Academy.

Theoretical Foundations

Although much of the research work at the Institute tends to be empirical, some faculty members have been working on theoretical issues. Manabi Majumdar and S.Subramanian's paper on "Capability Failure and Group Disparities: Measurement and Application" has been brought out as a Working Paper by the Harvard Centre for Population and Development Studies. Nirmal Sengupta's book on "New Institutional Theory of Production" has been accepted for publication by Sage. Several faculty members serve on boards of studies in Economics, Sociology, History and Political Science in different universities in India. Some of the faculty members also serve on various committees, and as trustees, in the governing councils and boards of various institutions. The public activities of the faculty members are given in Annexure XIV.

RBI Chair

The Reserve Bank of India established a Chair in applied research in Regional Economics in the Institute in 1985 for a five year period. In 1991, the RBI decided to extend support to the Unit on a continuing basis subject to periodic review. The RBI Unit comprises a Professor, a Research Associate and a Steno-Typist. Since 1993, the RBI has been granting fellowships to Ph.D.Scholars with the stipulation that there should not be more than four RBI doctoral fellows at any given point of time. Two scholars are currently in residence.

Doctoral Programme

The Institute admitted three new doctoral scholars, M.Velusamy, Gayathri Balagopal and Prakash Nelliyat during the course of the year, bringing the total number of scholars to eleven. After a gap of several years, one non-stipendiary scholar supported by a research project was admitted. A detailed review of the doctoral programme is currently underway. The list of doctoral candidates is given in Annexure XV.

Affiliates

Five research scholars from India and abroad have been granted affiliation. One of the affiliates from Sweden, Ingrid Widlund gave a seminar on "Support Formation in Contemporary Tamil Politics". The list of affiliates and post-doctoral fellows is given in Annexure XVI.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMMES

Special Seminars

a) A two-day symposium on Professor Amartya Sen's seminal contributions in the fields of Economics and Philosophy was organised on December 17-18, 1998. The occasion was to join in the nation-wide celebration of the award of the Nobel Prize in Economics to Professor Sen. This significant event was commemorated at the Institute by inviting scholars, researchers, students and teachers of colleges, universities and research institutes in and around Chennai to take part in a symposium. The idea of holding such a symposium came from S.Subramanian, and C.T.Kurien, while the task of coordinating the programme was delegated to Manabi Majumdar. Sen's contributions cover an enormous range of issues, starting from rigorous mathematical analyses in welfare economics, through developmental issues to more recent commentaries on human rights, secularism, India's rationalist traditions, weaponization and so on. The symposium focused on some themes in the work of Sen (namely, capital theory, development economics, economics of welfare, famines and latent hunger, demographics, women's agency, basic education, and public action), which were examined critically from the individual perspectives of the speakers. The list of papers presented in the symposium is given in Annexure XVII.

b) A one-day workshop was held on December 8, 1999 at the request of the Finance Department, Government of Tamil Nadu to assist the State Government to formulate its case for devolution to the Eleventh Finance Commission. Experts in the area of public finance were invited to present their views in the morning session. Working groups on specific issues such as the social sector, local bodies, and natural calamities met in the afternoon to frame recommendations. The workshop was attended by representatives from Government departments, academic organisations and experts.

c) An international seminar, "Rethinking Power and Freedom" was held at the TMAM Orientation and Research Centre, Kottayam from April 5-8, 1999 with the joint collaboration between MIDS and the TMAM Centre and with financial support from Indian Council of Social Science Research and Tamil Nadu Council of Science and Technology. The seminar explored the ways of rethinking power and freedom, for example thinking of power not only as domination but also as the ability to persuade and create solidarity, and freedom as self-realisation. The seminar was coordinated by Ananta K.Giri and the keynote address to the seminar, "Power and Empowerment Over Time: From Coercion to Consent", was presented by Jan N.Pieterse of Institute of Social Studies, The Hague. The seminar had participants from the U.S., Netherlands and different parts of the country. The seminar was wide-ranging on its exploration and dialogue with papers on various theories and interventions such as - Erasmus, Kant, Machiavelli, Kautilya, Foucault on "Power and Self-Cultivation", and "Freedom from the Culture of Crime", etc.

Annual Workshops

a) Ph.D. Scholars and Guides Workshop

The annual workshop of Ph.D.Scholars and Guides was held at Sacred Heart College, Tirupattur from December 5-8, 1998. S.Janakarajan and K.Padmanabhan of Sacred Heart College coordinated the workshop. Financial support was provided by the Indian Council of Social Science Research and local sponsors. Around 40 Ph.D. Scholars and about 20 guides and resource persons attended the workshop. Several faculty members participated and gave lectures in the morning sessions. The afternoon sessions were reserved for presentation by the scholars and group discussions.

b) IDRM Workshop

The 28th Interdisciplinary Research Methodology Workshop on "Theory, Methodology and Research in Social Sciences" was held at the Dept. of Political Science, Mangalore University from September 28 to October 1, 1998. Valerian Rodrigues, Professor & Chair, Dept. of Studies in Political Science and P.Radhakrishnan were the coordinators of the workshop. 15 papers on various methodological dimensions of social research were presented by researchers from different universities and institutes in the country. Selected papers from the Workshop will be published in the Institute journal. It may be difficult to continue the IDRM workshop in the future, without alternative sources of support. The list of the IDRM Workshop papers is given in Annexure XVIII.

c) Other Activities

The lists of papers presented by scholars from outside and members of the Institute and of visitors to the Institute are given in Annexures XIX and XX. The academic activities of the programme/project staff are given in Annexure XXI.

Journal

The Institute journal, Review of Development and Change has entered the fourth year of its existence. Two issues were brought out last year. Currently, there are 156 Indian and 7 foreign subscribers. An effort is underway to increase the subscriptions to the journal to around 200 in the coming year.

INFRASTRUCTURE

Library

The Institute now houses a collection of about 43,000 volumes. 750 volumes were added during the period July 1998-June 1999. Around 195 Indian and foreign journals are received either through subscription or on a complimentary basis. There were 1850 visitors to the library. Computerisation of library records is nearing completion. A software package, RILISAR has been purchased and will be installed, after which library records will be available for on-line use.

Computer and Xerox Facilities

There were no major changes during the course of the year in respect of hardware. E.mail services are to be strengthened with UUCP protocol. Internet browsing has now been made available in the computer room. A new Canon photocopying machine was purchased to replace the Modi-xerox copier that had broken down.

Finance

The audit report for the year under review as per Annexure XXII presents the financial position of the Institute. As per the statement, a sum of Rs. 58.38 lakhs has been sent on recurring expenditure for the year 1998-99. In addition DA and PF arrears amounting to Rs.2.86 lakhs were paid at the end of the year. Against the recurring expenditure the ICSSR sanctioned and released by March 31, 1999 a sum of Rs.23.74 lakhs. The Tamil Nadu Government had released the matching share of Rs. 11.74 lakhs for the year 1998-99 before 31.3.99 and the balance of Rs. 12 lakhs will be released in 1999-2000. An additional grant of Rs.4.30 lakhs was released by the ICSSR at the end of the year. The matching grant and the special library grant will be released as arrears by the State Government in 1999-2000. Taking into account all receipts and expenditures, the uncovered deficit for the year 1998-99 is a nominal amount of Rs.0.27 lakh.
